

Unit 1 Psychology Exam Revision

Across

2. _____ behaviours are those that are not characteristic of how an individual usually behaves
3. In Harlow's attachment experiment, this was the greatest factor that influenced attachment
7. Refers to the environmental influences on development
12. A type of neuron that sends information from the peripheral nervous system to the central nervous system
15. The brain and the spinal cord make up this nervous system division
16. Spatial neglect is an _____ disorder
17. A neurotransmitter that sends information about motor movements and coordination

18. The tendency for a child to perceive the world solely from their own point of view

19. Socio-_____ perspective defines normality as what is accepted and practiced in an individual's society and culture

Down

1. A type of plasticity that occurs when the brain is damaged
4. A PET scan is an example of a _____ neuroimaging technique
5. The part of the neuron that is responsible for receiving neurotransmitters
6. A type of attachment style where an infant demonstrates a balance of dependence and exploration

8. _____ nigra is an area of the brain that suffers neuron loss in a patient with Parkinson's Disease

9. Schizophrenia is an example of this category of mental illness

10. The primary motor cortex is located in this lobe

11. A specific period of development where the brain is primed to learn a skill

13. Wernicke's _____ is a condition that occurs when this area of the brain is damaged

14. Posture _____ is one of the motor symptoms of Parkinson's Disease