

Name: _____ Date: _____ Period: _____

Verbal Presentations - 11th Grade

- | | |
|---|------------------------|
| 1. The Act of Presenting | A. Conclusion |
| 2. A summary of the content in point form, usually to organize the content before writing. | B. Introduction |
| 3. A matter dealt with in a text or conversation; a subject. | C. Topic |
| 4. The act of introducing or the state of being introduced. | D. Supporting Material |
| 5. Usually the first sentence in an academic essay. The purpose is to grab the reader's attention and give some context for the essay. This is the opportunity to let the reader know why the topic is important. | E. Main Points |
| 6. A line that draws the reader in from the very beginning. | F. Hook |
| 7. The major divisions of the body of a presentation. Each introduces one idea that helps to advance the central idea (thesis) of the presentation. | G. Attention-Getter |
| 8. Refers to the information a person provides to develop and/or justify an idea that is offered. | H. Summary |
| 9. A brief account stating the main points. | I. Outline |
| 10. The end or finish of an event or process. | J. Presentation |