

Vocabulary 3

Across

- 1. diagnoses and treats people with emotional trauma; usually works in clinic settings
- 5. a "1 to 5" rating scale used in social science; 1 being poor and 5 being excellent
- 8. name, date, title, source, volume, weblink
- 10. a group that doesn't get a treatment to compare to the experimental group in an experiment
- 19. a part of an experiment that can be changed and controlled
- 21. the study of behavior that is tested through scientific research
- 22. a direct cause variable to an event
- 24. the count of a given collection of data that is being studied
- 25. studies, researches, and serves a community to see how it might be affected after an event

- 26. having to do with an organisms physical processes
- 27. a person concerned with helping students learn

Down

- 2. a method of self-observation in which participants report their thoughts and feelings
- 3. studies the emotional, cognitive, biological, person, and social changes that occur as an individual matures
- 4. variables that show some sort of connection, but not a direct cause to an event
- 6. studies how psychology might apply to industrial settings in a large company
- 7. observation of a given group in their natural environment
- 9. a Carl Jung theory that suggested that all humanity shares a massive storage of human experience accessible by dreams, therapy, and art

- 11. studies the physical and chemical changes in our bodies and how it influences behavior
- 12. an approach to gathering information and answering questions
- 13. usage of ink blots to see what images a patient might see
- 14. a developmental psychologist known for his views on child development; "teach to your audience"
- 15. studies the function of the consciousness
- 16. a tool used to collect data
- 17. a group that gets the "treatment" in an experiment
- 18. used the tuning forks to modify dogs behaviors towards food; concept of behaviorism
- 20. the branch of medicine that deals with mental, emotional, or behavioral disorders
- 23. in-depth investigations of a single person, group, or community