

Name: _____

Date: _____

Vocabulary Review for Final

Across

5. to bypass a structure or carry fluid from one anatomical location to another
 7. bruising
 10. to enlarge a preexisting hole, depression, or channel, such as the medullary canal
 11. a channel through which fluid can pass
 12. a tubular device placed inside an artery for dilation, support, and prevention of stricture

13. a pus-filled area of the lung
 14. in trauma medicine it is the process of restoring physiological balance following severe trauma
 15. dilation or ballooning of an artery wall as a result of injury, disease, or a congenital condition

Down

1. a process or intervention intended to reduce the level of injury or harm
 2. cross-shaped

3. a blockage in an artery that may lead to tissue ischemia and tissue death

4. areas of over-distention in lung tissue

6. an infectious disease that spreads throughout a large population, often across international boundaries

8. a compact substance that occurs normally in the digestive tract

9. a condition or an anomaly that develops during fetal life

Word Bank

empyema

cruciate

mitigation

stent

ream

congenital

conduit

shunt

bolus

pandemic

infarction

contusions

blebs

aneurysm

resuscitation