

Name: _____

Date: _____

Vocabulary Study: Lessons 1 and 2

- | | |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 1. Having the worthy qualities of human beings, such as kindness or compassion | A. indigenous |
| 2. A philosophy in which the interests and values of human beings are of primary importance | B. anthropology |
| 3. The scientific study of the origins, cultural development, and customs of human beings | C. virile |
| 4. The killing of one person by another; a person who kills another | D. engender |
| 5. Having certain characteristics traditionally associated with masculinity, especially physical strength, vitality, and assertiveness | E. gentile |
| 6. The belief that women should possess the same political and economic rights as men. | F. feminism |
| 7. A ruler who has absolute or unlimited power; a despot | G. Humanism |
| 8. The condition of being self-governing; independence | H. autocrat |
| 9. The examination of a corpse to determine the cause of death | I. genocide |
| 10. Conceit; valuing everything according to one's personal interest; excessive confidence in the rightness of one's own opinion | J. Humane |
| 11. The planned annihilation of a racial, political, or cultural group. | K. progeny |
| 12. A type, class, or category, especially of fine art or literature | L. homicide |
| 13. Anyone not of Jewish faith | M. homogeneous |
| 14. Having parts that are unrelated or completely different | N. autonomy |
| 15. Of the same kind or sort. Composed of parts that are alike. | O. heterogeneous |
| 16. to give rise to; to bring into existence | P. egoism |
| 17. a beginning or origin. The first book of the Old Testament. | Q. ingenious |
| 18. Occurring in or characterizing an area; native | R. Genesis |
| 19. Cleverly inventive and resourceful | S. autopsy |
| 20. Children or descendants; offspring | T. genre |