

four temperaments

Across

3. strong feeling deriving from one's circumstances, mood, or relationships with others
5. a substance that has no fixed shape and yields easily to external pressure; a gas or (especially) a liquid.
7. an essential or characteristic part of something abstract.
9. accept that (something) is true, especially without proof.
10. a mood or state of mind

Down

1. the state of being free from illness or injury
2. the capacity to have an effect on the character, development, or behaviour of someone or something, or the effect itself.
4. the physical structure, including the bones, flesh, and organs, of a person or an animal.
6. the way in which one acts or conducts oneself, especially towards others
8. combine or put together to form one substance or mass