

Name: _____

Date: _____

journalism

Across

6. a newspaper having pages half the size of those of the average broadsheet, typically popular in style and dominated by sensational stories

8. reporters or newspapers engaging in sensational journalism, especially accounts of the private lives of public figures

9. a specific subject or topic that journalists specialize in and focus their articles on

10. the public availability or knowledge of something

Down

1. to cause great public interest and excitement

2. a piece of news published by a newspaper or broadcast by a television or radio station in advance of its rivals

3. a recurring piece or article in a newspaper, magazine or other publication, where a writer expresses their own opinion in spaces allotted to them by the newspaper organisation

4. published false statement that is damaging to a person's reputation; a written defamation

5. the story's point or theme, most often expressed in the lede of the article

7. the opening sentence or paragraph of a news article, summarizing the most important aspects of the story