

Name: _____

life science

Across

9. A naming system system that gives each organism a two-word scientific name

10. A branch diagram that shows the relationship among organisms, including common ancestors

Down

1. A microscope that uses a magnetic field to focus a beam of electrons through an object or onto its surface

2. A series of descriptions arranged in pairs that leads the user to the identification of an unknown organism

3. A microscope that uses more than one lens to magnify an object

4. A living thing made up of two or more cells

5. A living thing that is made up of only one cell

6. An organism's ability to maintain steady internal conditions when outside conditions change

7. A group of organisms that have similar traits and are able to produce fertile offspring

8. The smallest unit of life

11. A group of similar species