

neonatal resuscitation

Across

- 1. . Which device should be readily available as a backup wherever resuscitation is needed, in case a compressed gas source fails?
- 5. . Which kind of apnea responds to stimulus?
- 10. If you place the endotracheal tube in too far, where is it most likely to end up?
- 12. . Air that leaks from inside the lung and collects in the pleural space is called a _____.

- 13. indications to start positive pressure breaths to a baby
 - 14. . The most important step when resuscitating a compromised infant is to
 - 15. Which of the following supplies is not appropriate for providing warmth?
- Down
- 2. Where do you administer neonatal resuscitation drugs in a neonate?
 - 3. Which is not one of the 3 assessments you do in neonatal resuscitation?

- 4. . Which of the following is NOT an indication for positive-pressure ventilation (PPV) in infants?
- 6. How frequently should the mask be decontaminated after use?
- 7. Which of the following is not an assessment for APGAR?
- 8. . The need for resuscitation of a newborn is almost always ----- related?
- 9. Order of suction of airways?
- 11. . Which kind of apnea doesn't respond to stimulus?