

research strategies

Across

3. method of learning about the world through critical thinking
 4. the act of participants behaving a certain way because they know they are being observed
 6. the study of the same group of people over a long time

8. what is the tendency to search for info that agrees with preconception
 10. what is a sample that fairly represents a population?
 11. which technique relies on observational skills?
 12. used to examine assumptions

Down

1. used to minimize participant bias

2. what is the study that compares data?
 5. how do researchers establish a correlation?
 7. the study that compares people of different ages at one time
 9. the only method that allows for a conclusion to be drawn

Word Bank

longitudinal
 survey method
 cross sectional participants bias

naturalistic observation
 scientific method
 confirmation bias
 critical thinking

experiment
 case study
 correlational study
 random sample